Announcing

The

SHIPBUILDER

1958

Foreword

As you thumb through Norwell High School log, the Shipbuilder, we hope you find happy memories of the years you've spent aboard. Your Shipbuilder Staff has done its best to gather pictures, copy, and drawings which will remind you of your four-year cruise. The sea hasn't always been smooth, but we hope all good sailors will hold dear memories of the day we won the game, that Senior Prom, and the unforgettable class trips.

We thank all the personnel of N.H.S. for their kind assistance. Students have donated treasured photographs; teachers have generously let the staff cut classes on "deadline days;" and our advisor, Mrs. Martin, has been a most hard-working admiral. Now here's your Shipbuilder . . . Happy Sailing!

Dedication

Mrs. ENID TAYLOR

We happily dedicate the 1958 Shipbuilder to Mrs. Enid Taylor--because she has guided us along the path of knowledge, whip in hand, and taught us to work every step of the way; because she has showed us how to open doors of appreciation that would otherwise have remained closed; because she has inspired us to make the most of our resources; and, most of all, because we love her.

Our Navigator

Mr. Clifton E. Bradley

We, the class of 1958, wish to express our appreciation to our superintendent and the school committee for all they have done for us during our stay at Norwell High School.

Our Skipper

Frederick A. Small, Principal

Mrs. Roy Baker, School Secretary

To the Class of 1958:

Perhaps now as never before is our American way of life challenged by insidious influences active within our own land and by threats of an external nature from abroad. I urge you to resist with all of your capabilities and zeal the unhealthy and the undesirable that exists within our own ranks and to establish yourselves as bulwarks of strength against alien trespass.

Leadership, intelligent and aggressive, is essential to the lives of free men and women existing in a family of free nations.

It is important that you develop the qualities of leadership and place yourselves in the fore in a fight for freedom with all who would conspire against us.

Frederick A. Small, Principal
Norwell High School

Faculty

ENGLISH

The essential study of English is ably conducted by Mrs. Enid Taylor and Miss Pauline Schiel.

Guiding Hands Help

... Against Hanover

The crowd of spectators who jam every game bear witness to the great popularity of basketball with students and townspeople alike. Each December sees a flock of students from unseasoned Freshmen to well-seasoned Seniors try out for the team. As well as being Number One at Norwell High, basketball has achieved national prominence in winter athletics.

Field Hockey, originally an English game, has intermittently been the Fall sport for NHS girls. In 1951 it was again revived and seems slated to remain a permanent feature. Despite the efforts of Coach Mary Knapp, Co-Captains Susan Sidney and Sandy Joseph, and Manager Judy Covell, the '57 season was far from what we had hoped . . . well, there's always next year!
